"I would respectfully nominate Stan Krauhs as the 2012 Citizen of the Year.

Mr. Krauhs served the city has a councilmember for two term 2000-2004. Since leaving elected office he has been a member of the Planning & Zoning Commission where he currently he serves as Chairman. Additionally, Mr. Krauhs has assisted with the conduct of the city elections and most recently served as our Presiding Election Judge.

Routinely present at city council meetings Krauhs epitomizes community involvement, and always in a positive and supporting manner never seeking the spotlight for himself.

For these and a host of other admirable reasons I nominate Stan Krauhs as our Citizen of the Year – 2012." – David Stall

Employee of the Year Nomination

"I respectfully nominate Annie Linthicum as the 2012 Employee of the Year.

Annie was hired by the city in the wake of Hurricane Ike though a grant program. She was such a valuable employee we took her on creating a new part-time position.

During 2012 Annie took the lead on the city election duties and the additional responsibility of attending city council meetings and preparing meeting minutes. Her assistance with the audit and numerous ad hoc tasks make her invaluable to the city and a tremendous asset. Annie always goes above and beyond what's required of her.

For these and a host of other reasons I ask for your consideration of Annie Linthicum as the Shoreacres 2012 Employee of the Year." – David Stall
