Subject: RE: Jennifer [REDACTED]

Hello again [REDACTED]

Hopefully Jennifer has told you that she has agreed to come to Houston for the trial next week. I begged the judge to give me one more continuance to get Jennifer to come down. 2 of our investigators are going to pick her up from Longview. They are the 2 best guys we have in the office too, [REDACTED] and [REDACTED]. She will have a female victim advocate that will be with her the entire time she is in the courthouse. She will not be walking past him. She will be facing me and her view of the defendant will be blocked. I will have to have her identify the defendant but that's the only time she will have to move to see him. I believe she told our investigator that she will be staying with you. Hopefully that's true. If not we can arrange a hotel for her.

A side note, do you have any photos of Jennifer from around 2013? I'll ask Jennifer too but I was just curious. Jennifer has everyone's number but my cell phone is 713-[REDACTED]. Feel free to call, email, text, anything if something comes up.

Like I said before- sexual assaults are the only cases I try. I normally handle child victim cases but I also handle adult cases that need extra care. Although I want to make sure this guy goes away for life I'm not going to do that at the expense of anyone- especially Jennifer. No one wants to come down here and testify but I've yet to meet a survivor of sexual assault that wasn't glad they did afterwards.

Thanks,
Nick Socias
